This program is designed to help its participants engage in a challenging walking program. It is, however, unfair to assume that everyone will be able to follow all of these routes. Therefore, the following are some suggestions that you may choose to follow as alternatives to the routes designed for this program:

- Keep in mind area bike trails such as the one in Watervliet.
- The Ned Harkness Track & Field is open to Rensselaer faculty and staff (do not neglect this valuable asset).
- Treadmills also offer a great cardiovascular workout.
- Take a walk around your neighborhood where you can incorporate hills.

Remember:

If you choose alternatives to the routes in this program, it is important that you progress. Level 1 is designed to be of a relatively short distance, with few hills. The distance of a Level 1 walk should be anywhere from ¾ of a mile to 1 mile. With each level the distance and/or number of hills increases. In order for an alternative to count, you must progress in the same fashion.
