Rensselaer’s Response to Current Economic Conditions

Current world-wide financial events have had an impact on all businesses, including colleges and universities. Rensselaer is taking proactive steps to minimize the impact to its financial position. As a result, we are suspending recruitment activities, except for a limited number of positions. Please refer to our Current Job Openings https://rpijobs.rpi.edu for information about current searches and recruitment activities. Rensselaer will continue to be proactive and prudent with its hiring practices. We appreciate your interest in employment at Rensselaer, and hope you will consider us in the future.
